

HSolow v. Aspect Resources, LLC
Del.Ch.,2008.
Only the Westlaw citation is currently available.

Del.Ch.,2008.
Solow v. Aspect Resources, LLC
Not Reported in A.2d, 2008 WL 441394 (Del.Ch.)

UNPUBLISHED OPINION. CHECK COURT RULES BEFORE CITING.

END OF DOCUMENT

Court of Chancery of Delaware.
Re: SOLOW

v.
ASPECT RESOURCES, LLC, et. al.
Civil Action No. 20397-CC.

Submitted: Feb. 7, 2008.
Decided: Feb. 8, 2008.
Feb. 8, 2008.

Jesse A. Finkelstein, Richard P. Rollo, Richards
Layton & Finger, P.A., Wilmington, DE.
Richard I.G. Jones, Jr., Andrew D. Cordo Ashby &
Geddes, Wilmington, DE.
WILLIAM B. CHANDLER III, Chancellor.

*1 Dear Counsel:

Counsel for non-party Noble Energy, Inc. (“Noble”) is hereby directed to submit information regarding the eDiscovery qualifications of Holden Chang, the information technology consultant Noble stated it utilized in conjunction with producing the discovery compelled pursuant to this Court's October 30, 2007 Opinion and Order.

Should Noble fail to timely comply with this directive, the Court will deem Noble's noncompliance as abandonment of its application for a declaration of compliance with the subpoena and for expenses and will deny all relief sought therein.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

Very truly yours,

/s/ William B. Chandler III

William B. Chandler III